*Twenty-Eighth Sunday of Ordinary Time, Year C
12 - 13 October 2019*

*Feast and Canonisation of John Henry Newman
October 13, 2019*

Today Pope Francis will declare 19th century British cardinal John Henry Newman a saint. The British theologian will be one of five people canonised. Canonisations have less to do with encouraging the living. The canonisation of John Henry Newman will be an occasion for celebration particularly in the educational institutions.

Many schools, university colleges and student associations have been named after him. Newman was an exceptional scholar who joined in public conversation and controversies about faith as well as leading a Catholic university in Ireland. The depth and breadth of Newman's faith and the way in which his faith and public life were woven together are exemplary for any Catholic educational institution.

Catholics with an interest in theology will also celebrate Newman's canonisation, perhaps for differing reasons. Some will find encouragement in the breadth of his faith and his insistence on the primacy of conscience. Others will be reassured by his insistence on the authority of scripture and of Church Councils in Catholic reflection on faith. He held together strands of living faith that are often opposed to one another in uninformed Catholic debate.

Lived his faith.

When he became a Catholic he had to deal with the experience of exile in the culture and ethos of the Britain in which he was raised and the narrowness he often found in the Church to which he came. Newman's writing and preaching, however, transcended the difference between Church denominations and groups within them. His wide reading, scholarship and respect for the finding of the right words meant he wrote for the heart as well as for the head.

Gift of good words

The gift of finding good words is often treated as a decoration on the hard reasoning when we think and speak of faith. His care for words, was a reproach to simplistic, partisan, populist and polemical representations of Catholic life.

Deep Roots.

For him the health of the foliage and the depth of the roots were crucial in a healthy faith. As any saint should, John Henry Newman continues to challenge and encourage us in our very different age.

ENTRANCE ANTIPHON: If you, O Lord, should mark iniquities, Lord, who could stand? But with you is found forgiveness, O God of Israel.

FIRST READING

A reading from the second book of Kings 5:14-17

Naaman the leper went down and immersed himself seven times in the Jordan, as Elisha had told him to do. And his flesh became clean once more like the flesh of a little child.

Returning to Elisha with his whole escort, he went in and stood before him. 'Now I know' he said, 'that there is no God in all the earth except in Israel. Now, please, accept a present from your servant.' But Elisha replied, 'As the Lord lives, whom I serve, I will accept nothing.' Naaman pressed him to accept, but he refused. Then Naaman said, 'Since your answer is "No," allow your servant to be given as much earth as two mules may carry, because your servant will no longer offer holocaust or sacrifice to any god except the Lord.'

The Word of the Lord

RESPONSORIAL PSALM:

The Lord has revealed to the nations his saving power.

Sing a new song to the Lord
for he has worked wonders.
His right hand and his holy arm
have brought salvation. (R.)

The Lord has made known his salvation;
has shown his justice to the nations.
He has remembered his truth and love for the house of Israel. (R.)

All the ends of the earth have seen the salvation of our God.
Shout to the Lord all the earth,
ring out your joy. (R.)

SECOND READING:

A reading from the second letter of St Paul to Timothy 2:8-13

Remember the Good News that I carry. 'Jesus Christ risen from the dead, sprung from the race of David'; it is on account of this that I have my own hardships to bear, even to being chained like a criminal – but they cannot chain up God's news. So I bear it all for the sake of those who are chosen, so that in the end they may have the salvation that is in Christ Jesus and the eternal glory that comes with it.

Here is a saying that you can rely on:
If we have died with him, then we shall live with him.
If we hold firm, then we shall reign with him.
If we disown him, then he will disown us.
We may be unfaithful, but he is always faithful,
for he cannot disown his own self.

The Word of the Lord

GOSPEL ACCLAMATION

Alleluia, alleluia!

For all things give thanks to God,
because this is what he expects of you in Christ Jesus.

Alleluia!

GOSPEL

A reading from the holy Gospel according to Luke 17:11-19

On the way to Jerusalem Jesus travelled along the border between Samaria and Galilee. As he entered one of the villages, ten lepers came to meet him. They stood some way off and called to him, 'Jesus! Master! Take pity on us.' When he saw them he said, 'Go and show yourselves to the priests.' Now as they were going away they were cleansed. Finding himself cured, one of them turned back praising God at the top of his voice and threw himself at the feet of Jesus and thanked him. The man was a Samaritan. This made Jesus say, 'Were not all ten made clean? The other nine, where are they? It seems that no one has come back to give praise to God, except this foreigner.' And he said to the man, 'Stand up and go on your way. Your faith has saved you.'

The Gospel of the Lord.
